CLAY CITY, KY., THURSDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1912.

NO. 44

IN MEMORY OF LITTLE VIRGINIA RUTH GARRETT.

Friday night, Oct. 4th at 12:10 o'clock the death angel came into the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Garrett, of Stanton, and carried home to heaven their darling baby girl, her soul taking its flight without a struggle to God who gave it. She leaves a father, mother, and many relatives to mourn her loss.

Little Virginia was an unusually bright child, and a favorite with all who knew her. All that loving ones and friends could do was done, but the Father had a vacant place and He took her to be a sweet little angel. "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away; blessed be the name of the Lord."

Little Virginia, though they miss you in your home, you will be standing at the pearly gates of Heaven, beckoning them to meet you there.

She was one year, two months, and thirteen days old.

Weep not, dear ones, as those that have no hope, for Jesus said "Suffer little children to come unto me, for of such is the kingdom of Heaven."

Her little body was laid to rest in the Faulkner burying ground near Bowen. Take your rest little darling, the Father is caring for His little lambs; though your little body is resting in that snow white casket, your soul is singing, in Heaven above, where sorrow or death never come; though your eyes are closed in death, your hands folded across your sweet little breast, resting forever more, let us all prepare to meet the darling baby over on the other shore.

Our darling is asleep in Jesus, She is safe on His loving breast She has gone to join the angels Our loved one is at rest.

—One who loved her.

The following is a synopsis of the United States Supreme Court decision regarding delinquent subscribers. It will prove interesting:

1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to renew their subscription.

2. If the subscribers order the discontinuation of the periodicals the publisher may continue to send them until all arrears are paid.

3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the postoffice to which they addressed they are responsible until after they have settled their bills and order their paper discontinued.

4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publisher and papers are sent to the former address subscribers are held responsible.

5. If the subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of time if they do not wish to continue taking it, otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it and the subscriber will be responsible until an express notice with payment of all arrears are sent to the publisher.

William Morton committed suicide at his home at Pilot View last Friday morning. He left his home telling his wife that he would go out and kill a rabbit. Soon after leaving the house Mrs. Morton heard the report of the gun, but thought nothing of it at the time. He was found later with a bullet hole in his head. No cause can be conjectured for his rash act.

Morton is a native of this county and frequently returned to this county where he bought many cattle. He is survived by a wife and six children, and was forty-six years old.

Chairman Hilles of the National Republican Committee has issued an address in which he declares that it is a personality and not a principle which is opposing Mr. Taft in his own party in this campaign, and it is doomed to unmistakable failure. The race, he asserts, is between the President and Mr. Wilson, and every vote cast for Roosevelt is "a vote for Wilson, which means danger, a vote for Taft is a vote for safety." Then he rings in the old adage "It is better to be safe than sorry," all of which is apparently intended for the marines. It is hardly to be expected that the old sailors will accept a feed of such mouldy rations. They know that the prosperity which the country is enjoying is because the earth and the mines have vied in producing unparalleled wealth and that it is in spite of the Republican principle of a high protective tariff which would have plunged the country into almost irrevocable disaster but for the national conditions vouchsafed by a kind providence. The prosperity of which the document prates could not come from taxing the people to death on food and other necessities and the man who really believes that they can should be confined in the institution for the simples.

The high protective tariff for which Mr. Taft and Colonel Roosevelt stand has got to go. People are in earnest on that question and know that in order to secure their demands they must vote for Wilson and the Democratic nominees for Congress. Let every Democrat do so and send the calamity howlers to grass.

The plan originated by Chairman Johnson N. Oamden of the Democratic State Campaign Committee to have a speaking at each of the county seats in the state on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 2nd, and in the cities at any hour which may be found the most convenient, when the Chairmen and the Precinct Committees will meet to confer and devise means to get out the full vote, has been adopted by the National Committee which will recommend to all the state organizations to do likewise. That committee will also arrange to have a message from Governor Wilson read at the meeting in all of the states, which will be full of good cheer and prediction of success if every Democrat will do his duty. To hear this personal message from the next President of the United States will be the desire of every man who will make it a point to attend the meetings which are sure to be a novel feature of this very novel campaign, the first to made without the tainted money of the trusts, which the other parties are flooded with, but with the mites of the common people.

There is practically no doubt that the Democratic nominees in nine of the eleven Congressional Districts of the state will be elected. In the Tenth and Eleventh Districts, normally large Republican, the split of the g. o. p. gives the Democrats hope of success, even in those usually rock-ribbed regions. With the Democrats and the Progressives to contest for the succession it is by no means sure that Mr. Langley will be re-elected, while the Hon. Ben V. Smith has a most excellent chance to beat Caleb Powers in the Eleventh District with Mr. Seavey, the Progressive candidate, to divide the Republican vote with him. Besides, Powers has become unpopular because of his wishy-washy course and his inability to do anything for his constituents. A solid delegation in Congress is, therefore, not among the impossibilities. Let every Democrat strive for that most desired consummation.

Only five days more until the battle is won or lost, with great odds standing in favor of the Democrats winning. Everything favors Democracy this time, the strong claims of success for other parties notwithstanding. However strange it may seem now appears that Roosevelt will get more votes than Taft, take the whole vote of the nation. The old saying that "strange things will happen sometime" is demonstrated to a certainty in these conditions. Let every Democrat do his duty next Tuesday and the battle will be royally won.

The Courier-Journal gratefully acknowledges several cards sent it by the American Protective Tariff League, containing touching verses entitled "No Patches on my Pants." Of course there are no patches on the "pants" of the gentleman of the American Protective Tariff League. The patches are sported by those who are compelled to buy their pants from gentlemen of the American Protective Tariff League.—Courier-Journal.

When Governor Wilson ran for Governor of New Jersey he promised to secure for the people sixteen reforms. The way he keeps pre-election promises is shown by the fact that all sixteen are now covered by laws obtained through his influence. That is the kind of a man to tie to and the American people realizing it are going to give him the largest majority for President ever accorded.

Powell should roll up a Democratic plurality of 300 this year and will if Democrats will do their duty next Tuesday.

Succeed when everything else fails. In nervous prostration and female weaknesses they are the supreme remedy, as thousands have testified. FOR KIDNEY, LIVER AND STOMACH TROUBLE. It is the best medicine ever sold over a druggist's counter.

TWENTY YEARS.

Makes a great difference in most women. They are troubled with "nerves"—they suffer from backache, headache, sleeplessness, a sensation of irritability or twitching, hot flashes, dizzy spells, or many other symptoms of female weakness. The local disorder and inflammation should be treated with Dr. Pierce's Little Tablets and the irregularity and weakness of the female system corrected and strengthened with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The strain upon the young woman or the woman of middle age—upon the nerve and blood forming structures—may be too great for her strength. This is the time to take this restorative tonic and strength-giving nerve and regulator. For over forty years sold by druggists for woman's peculiar weaknesses and distressing ailments. The one remedy so perfect in composition and so good in curative effects as to warrant its makers in printing its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. The one remedy which absolutely contains neither alcohol nor narcotics or habit-forming drugs.

Following letter selected at random from a large number of similar ones and cited merely to illustrate these remarks:

"In the winter of 1903, I became greatly run down and irritable," writes Mrs. Hester Scott, of Swan Creek, Mich., Route 1, Box 1. "I was then twenty years old, and at last, resolved to apply to a doctor for help. The doctor said I had inflammation, enlargement and ulceration. I was in bed seven weeks and got no better. The doctor said I would have to have an operation, but to that I would not listen. My husband purchased two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I started to take this remedy I could not walk across the floor, but after I had taken three bottles I could feel myself getting better, so I dropped the doctor and took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Only for the fact that I would have been dead I really believe, saved my life. I feel better now than in twenty years."

SOMERSAULTS OF ROOSEVELT

William Jennings Bryan Analyzes Record of Third Term Candidate

HIS SUDDEN CONVERSION

No Message in Behalf of People's Cause in Seven and a Half Years
T. R. Was President.

By WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN.
Solomon says that the borrower is servant unto the lender. If this applies to one who borrows ideas Mr.
Roosevelt does not recognize the obligation, for he has not only borrowed from the Democratic party as few public men have borrowed from an opposing party, but he has shown himself strangely ungrateful for the ideas taken. Of course it will not be contended that an idea can be patented. It is the only thing, in fact, that is not subject to monopoly.

Even Mr. Perkins, with all his fondness for the trust, would not contend that a monopoly in ideas could be formed and made subject to regulation by a bureau appointed by the president. Mr. Roosevelt, however, has won his popularity by the advocacy of things previously advocated by the Democrats, and still he is all the while assailing the Democrats bitterly and has shown toward them a hostility that is hard to explain.

To show the extent of his borrowing, let me enumerate some of the things which he now advocates that were advocated by the Democrats at an earlier date.

Shall the People Rule?

Take his paramount issue of the present campaign—namely, the rule of the people. The platform adopted by the Democratic national convention at Denver four years ago contained the following:

"Shall the people rule?" is the overwhelming issue which manifests itself in all the questions now under discussion."

Here is the very phrase which he employs, and it is not only declared to be an issue, but the overwhelming issue.
It was dwelt upon by the candidates and by other speakers during the campaign, so that Mr. Roosevelt, then president, may be assumed to have had notice of it. He not only refused to admit then that it was the paramount issue, but he displayed extraordinary activity in urging upon the country Mr. Taft, whom he has since declared to be the agent of bosses and the enemy of popular government.

It would seem that he ought to make some slight acknowledgement of his indebtedness to the Democratic party for suggesting this issue to him. At least, he might put the issue in quotation marks.

He is now advocating the direct election of senators, but if he ever expressed himself in favor of this reform earlier than two years ago the fact has escaped my observation, and I have not only watched carefully, but waited anxiously, for some favorable expression from him.

Long Fight For Popular Election of Senators.

The Democratic party began the fight for the popular election of senators twenty years ago this summer, when a Democratic house of representatives at Washington passed for the first time a resolution submitting the necessary amendment. Since that time a similar resolution has been passed by the house in five other congresses—first, in 1894 by another Democratic house; then, after two congresses had elapsed, by three Republican houses, and, last, by the present Democratic house. During the twenty years the reform has been endorsed in three Democratic platforms, the platforms of 1900, 1904 and 1908, and it has been endorsed by the legislatures of nearly two-thirds of the states. Mr.
Roosevelt must have known of the effort which was being made by the people to secure the popular election of senators, and yet he took no part in the fight. During this time he was president for seven and one-half years, and it is quite certain that a ringing message from him would have brought victory in the people's cause, but no message came. Four years ago the convention which he controlled and which nominated Mr. Taft rejected, by a vote of seven to one, a resolution endorsing this reform.

Still Mr. Roosevelt did not say anything. He neither rebuked the Republican convention nor endorsed the strong plank which was included in the Denver platform. Even Mr. Taft went so far during the campaign of 1908 as to say that PERSONALLY he was INCLINED to favor the popular election of senators by the people, but Mr. Roosevelt did not even indicate an intention in that direction. Now, when the reform is practically secured—the amendment being before the states for ratification—he declares himself in favor of it. Would it not be fair for him to indicate in some way his appreciation of the long continued fight waged by the Democrats in behalf of this reform before he espoused it?

T. R. and the Income Tax.

Mr. Roosevelt is in favor of an income tax. How long since? His first indorsement of it was during his second term, and then it was suggested as a means of limiting swollen fortunes and not as a means of raising revenue. The Democratic party included an income tax provision in the Wilson law of 1894. When this provision was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court by a majority of one the Democratic party renewed the fight and has contended for the income tax in three national campaigns. In 1908 the Democratic platform demanded the submission of an amendment specifically authorizing an income tax—the very amendment now before the states for ratification.

Mr. Roosevelt's candidate, Mr. Taft, declared during the campaign that an amendment was not necessary, and Mr. Roosevelt never made any argument in favor of the amendment or in favor of the principle embodied in it.
The amendment has now been ratified by thirty-four states; but, so far as I know, Mr. Roosevelt has never made a speech in favor of its ratification nor, since the submission of the amendment, made a speech urging an income tax as a part of our fiscal system. It would not require any great stretch of generosity on his part to credit the Democratic party with priority in the advocacy of this reform.

Not Always For Railroad Regulation.
Mr. Roosevelt is now an advocate of railroad regulation. When did he commence? The Democratic party in its platforms of 1896, 1900 and 1904 demanded an extension of the powers of the interstate commerce commission.
Up to 1904 Mr. Roosevelt never discussed the subject of railroad regulation officially or in public speech, so far as I have been able to find. Although nominated without opposition in the convention of 1904, his platform contained no promise of railroad regulation. By its attitude on the railroad question the Democratic party alienated the support of those railway officials who counted themselves Democrats, and Mr. Roosevelt, both in 1900, when he was a candidate for vice-president, and in 1904, when he was a candidate for president, had the benefit of the support of those ex-Democrats. It was in 1904 that he wrote his famous letter to Mr. Harriman and in the state of New York profited by the campaign fund that Mr. Harriman raised.

When after 1904 Mr. Roosevelt took up the subject of railroad regulation he found more hearty support among the Democrats in the senate and house than among the Republicans, so that he has reason to know that the Democratic party has for a long time planted itself boldly upon the people's side on the subject of railroad regulation.

Under the circumstances we might expect some complimentary reference to our party's attitude instead of anathemas.

T. R.'s Complete Somersault.

On the subject of publicity as to campaign contributions he has not only adopted the Democratic position, but he has been compelled to turn a complete somersault in order to do so. In 1908 the Democratic platform demanded the publication before election of the names of individual contributors and the amounts contributed. Mr.
Roosevelt at that time indorsed Mr.
Taft's contention that the publication should be deferred until after the election, and even went so far as to give reasons for believing that it would be improper to make the publication before the election. Two years later he declared in favor of publicity before and after the election, landing on the Democratic side shortly before the law was enacted carrying out the Democratic platform on this subject. Here, surely, he ought to praise the Democratic party for the pioneer work it has done in purifying politics.

Here are a few of the things which bear the Democratic brand, and with all of his experience on the plains he will not be able to "work the braud over" so as to make it look like "T. R."

NUGGETS FROM WOODROW WILSON'S SPEECHES.

The nation has awakened to a sense of neglected ideals and neglected duties.

We stand face to face with great questions of right and justice.

Parties and platforms and candidates should be frankly put under examination to see what they will yield us by way of progress.

The only way you can conduct politics is in widening circles, not in narrowing circles.

I regard this campaign simply as a continued struggle to see to it that the people are taken care of by their own government.

If prosperity is not to be checked in this country we must broaden our borders and make conquest of the markets of the world.

A Nervous Woman Finds Relief After Many Years

Women who suffer from extreme nervousness, often endure much suffering before finding any relief.
Mrs. Daniel Kintner, of Defiance, O., had such an experience, regarding which she says:

"I had stomach trouble when I was eighteen years old and it broke down my health, and for years I suffered with nervousness, headache, indigestion and nervous spasms. The spasms got so bad
I would have them three or four times a week. After trying nearly every remedy recommended, I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine, and I must say it helped me wonderfully. I have had no severe nervousness for several years."

MRS. DAN KINTNER,
1003 Pleasant St., Defiance, O.

Many remedies are recommended for diseases of the nervous system that fail to produce results because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. Dr. Miles' Nervine has proven its value in such cases so many times that it is unnecessary to make claims for it. You can prove its merits for yourself by getting a bottle of your druggist, who will return the price if you receive no benefit.

"Cardui Cured Me"

For nearly ten years, at different times, Mrs. Mary Jinks of Treadway, Tenn., suffered with womanly troubles. She says: "At last, I took down and thought I would die. I could not sleep. I couldn't eat. I had pains all over. The doctors gave me up. I read that Cardui had helped so many, and I began to take it, and it cured me. Cardui saved my life! Now, I can do anything."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic fectly harmless, vegetable ingredients, Cardui is the best
